Provincial "downloading" prompts

council to initiate study

by Janice Pinke
Madoc village will initiate a study to see how severe the provincial government's downloading of monetary authority is affecting the citizens of the Village of Madoc.
Madoc Reeve Tom Deline told the Madoc Review that more and more monetary responsibilities are being passed down to the municipalities which means higher taxes for everybody on a local level.
Reeve Deline told the Madoc Review that 1989's taxes went amount jumped to 14.93 percent. Tom blames most of this increase on the provincial government's "downloading" however he added that "I want to know how much of that (increase) is due to the downloading of the province".
Once the report is finished "council will baye to decide what to do with it after that" says Tom. Most likely the report will be forwarded to "our member in the Ontario Legislature" he says

Council to formulate water/ sewer proposal for MOE

by Janice Pinke

by Janice Pinke
At the last regular meeting of Madoc Village council (Oct.
30), councillors made arrangements to formulate the total balance of the water and sewer project for the village.

The Ministry of the Environment (MOE) made the request for the 100 percent report on the work needed to finalize the water and sewer efforts in the village.

In 1988, the MOE put a building freeze on Madoc which would see only 25 lots being designated for building until the freeze was lifted. The report will be compiled by councillors and when completed, forwarded to the village's consulting firm Totten Sims Hubicki and the Ministry of the Environment for grant eligibility purposes. Council also requested at this meeting that Totten Sim Hubicki proceed through the MOE to get the Certificate of Approval for Queen Victoria Street, from Madawaska to Durham Street and Russell Street from Queen Victoria to Gladstone Street.

$2.50 per tire

by Janice Pinke
At the last regular meeting of Madoc village council it was reported that E & E Tire Recyclers had removed 2,000 tires from the Madoc Landfill
Site at a cost of $2.50 per tire.
As a result of this cost to the Madoc Landfill Site, committee members have had to raise the $1 cost for dumping your tires at the landfill site to $2.50 effective November 1st.

effective November 1st.

E & E Tire Recyclers also reported that an estimated 3500 to 4000 tires still remain at the landfill site. Therefore it was suggested that Madoc village council budget for the removal of these tires next year.

Reeve Deline said that he will be attending the November 1st meeting of the Landfill Site Committee and he would discuss the problem of the remainder of the tires with them at that time.

The Todd house on St. Lawrence St. West got its 'Heritage' designation last week. Madoc village council passed the bylaw which now makes the home eligible for 'Heritage' grants. The Todd house was selected for this special designation because it has one of the finest detailed spindlework on the verandah in the area.

CHINCHILLA RANCHING WORKS

Roseneath Chinchilla Ranch is owned and operated by Allan and Bari Sheppard.

Bari Sheppard thinks she has the answer for all those farmers and rural people out there who would like a second income to get them over the rough spots, or just make a little extra.

The answer? Raising chinchillas. Now before you start laughing or winkling your nose at the idea, wait a-minute. Bari Sheppard is living proof it's no laughing matter. She's the city-bred woman who went from knowing nothing about farm life or animals to building a successful business in just three years by raising chinchillas for breeding stock and fur nells:

"There's a far better dollar to be made ranching chinchilla than in any other form of farming," she said in an interview at her ranch.

Bari started Roseneath Chinchilla 10 years ago while still commuting daily to her job in Toronto. She had grown up in Toronto and lived there most of her life until she married Alian Sheppard, a Roseneath dairy farmer.

According to Allan, "I encouraged Bari to start raising chinchilla. I knew she couldn't commute forever, but we had grown somewhat dependant on her salary. The way agriculture was and still is, you can't put all your eggs in one basket, One of the two spouses has to work out, or you need two incomes from the farm.

Bari looked into pigs, chickens and just about everything else, "but I couldn't find anything that would give us the money I was making in the city," she explained. Until she found chinchilla, that is.

She had saved money for a family swimming pool, and with that money they fixed up an old chicken coop in the top of the barn and bought initial breeding stock.

bought initial orecoing stock.

"It was frustrating at first. Being a city gal I was pretty dumb about a lot of things. Allan kept expanding the dairy farm and was so busy. The chins themselves taught me the most of what I needed to know," she Ranching chinchilla means no hired help to break your equipment, no weather worries, no crop failures, and there isn't a huge investment in land. The overhead is extremely low. It costs about a dollar a month to raise a chinchilla. The market value at nine-months runs $40.$90. and that's in U.S. dollars. "An awfully read rating." East Rair.

good return," says Bari. Chinchillas are small, grey in colour, docile by nature, and have "the softest fur in the world." The children can handle them, they have no odour and a small herd takes up very little space.

A rancher can make a living from a herd of 200 breeders. An area of 14'x 14' houses up to 100. Two tablespoons of feed per day, 1 1/2 oz. of water and fresh air circulation are the basis of a good operation.

Bari has been helping to start new ranchers into the chinchilla business for several years now. The chinchilla industry can support hundreds of more people in Ontario alone. We need more ranchers to provide more product, she says. Obviously Alian agrees with his wife. Two years ago Alian took a hard line look at dairy vs. chinchilla and then switched to chinchilla. Allan says. Ranching has given us not only a better income, but also a better lifestyle. I have more time now for my family and my other interests. We are proud of our 1500 chinchillas and we are more than happy to show anyone our operation.

Anyone interested in starting a ranch should call or write, for more information.

Madoc's Legion Branch 363 over four decades old

by Una Adams
Public Relations Officer
The legion branch in Madoc received its Ontario Charter in 1945 and their Dominion charter in 1954. There were 19 members names appearing on the Ontario Charter who initiated the obtaining of it.
In 1948-49 the legion hall was constructed consisting of the present first floor and one small room upstairs which was used as a meeting room. Members also used one small room at the front of the main floor and the balance of space was leased out and was used as a pool hall.

In 1960 the members took over the entire main floor and through the dedication and financial backing of ten members, a loan was obtained to extend the small upstairs room the full length of the building. This was necessary building. This was necessary to provide more space for the growing numbers.

Over the years membership fluctuated beginning with approximately 20 members now boasting a total member-ship of 400. This includes, ordinary, associate, affiliate, life, honorary and non-voting associate

IN FI ANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders Fields the poppies grow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place, and in the sky The larks still bravely singing fly. Scarce heard amid the guns below. We are the Dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe, To you from failing hands we throw The torch, be yours to hold it high, If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders Fields.

Madoc Legion members deserve lots of thanks

by Janice Pinke

What Legion members give to the Madoc community is far too extensive for anyone to imagine, and for that matter print on a page here in the Madoc Review. You can be reassured however, that these members, especially the executive, take pride in their Legion and their accomplishments, over the past four decades, echo that pride.

Although Remembrance Day is a day in which we remember those who fought, lived through and passed on during both world wars, I like to think of it as a day wesalso

members and their untiring efforts in the Madoc community.

All of the Legion's executive are to be thanked for the volunteer work they've alloted out of their busy lives and volunteer work they've alloted out of their busy lives and given to the Legion and Madoc. Two persons that come to mind, and that I would like to thank personally, are President Gavin Adams, and his lovely wife Una, who acts as both Secretary and Public Relations Officer for Branch 363

Please remember to honour all these wonderful people this November 11, 1990.

So, it is mainly retired OPP officers who have first hand military experience. Scriven says most of the active OPP officers who belong to veterans' associations have qualified for membership through their parents' involvement in the Second World War or the Korean conflict.

On Sunday, officers from more than 100 detachments will be participating in Remembrance Day activities by marching, playing musical instruments, laying wreaths, operating parade escort vehicles and coordinating traffic.

Life member, George Neilson, remembers serving his country abroad and at home

by Una Adams
Public Relations Officer
When I was named Public Relations Officer for Br. 363 along with the position of secretary. I thought no problem. I'll just fly around with my little camera and take pictures of the various legion events and place them in nice neat little scrap books.
What I didn't know was that a certain young news reporter would be requesting me to do some write-ups for the paper on various occasions.

As previously reported in this paper, three of our members had the honour of being made life members in

These members are: Cecil McBride, George Neilson and Wilfred Thompson. Also on our Life Membership list prior to 1990 were John Snider and Alfred Willman.

In order to obtain this honour, a life member had to give a great deal of his time voluntarily to the organization and particularly Branch 363.

and particularly Branch 363.

As it is necessary to go to the secretarial reasons, I found on several occasions that Cmrd. George Nellson was usually on hand to offer his advice and knowledge and therefore I asked Cmrd. George was born in Madoc on May 18, 1919. He was the only son of Charles & Beatrice Neilson. George married Ann Littlejohn, aScottishlass, from overseas in 1941. They had two children, Robert and Paticia and now have six grandchildren.

On July 13, 1955 he transferred to the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment until he received his honour-able discharge in 1958. George served in the British Isles, Sicily, Italy and North West Europe.

During 1939 until his honour-able discharge from active service on Aug. 15th 1945 George received many distinc-tive medals, the Italy Star, France & Germany Star, France & Germany Star, Defence Medal, Canadian Volunteer Service Medal & War Medal 1939-34 also the Canadian Forces Decoration Medal.

One of the incidents that George remembers well was, when there was a mix up in their orders, the troop was sent

Take up our quarrel with the foe, To you with failing hands we throw The torch, be yours to hold it high If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders Fields.

Remembrance Day Service November 11, 1989 - Remembrance Day services remind us of those men and women who made the supreme sacrifice.

Let us not forget in our busy lives
Of the ones who fought for our freedom
If it weren't for them, well I don't like to

ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

In each of our hearts there's a little boy A lonely child who wakes in the night And pushes the darkness with puny hands And longs for his mother to bring a light But no matter how frightened our hearts may be God, keep our faces unmoved as ice, To meet the end of the hideous game Death plays against us, with loaded dice, No record is made of a moment's fear, No man can escape a heart afraid But history is made by the side we took, The way we fought, and the stand we made.

Twinning.
Yn dilyn ystyriaeth pellach penderfynwyd ....... y mater ymhellach. (Translated as following consideraton at length, council adopted the resolution unanimously for twinning with the Village of Madoc and they are being asked to form a committee of the council establishment and directive in considering further matters). Be it moved that the council of the Village of Madoc approve the twinning of the Village of Madoc with Porthmadog in Wales, and that a committee of council be struck with invited members of the community for the coordination of future plans dealing with this production of the property of the coordination of future plans dealing with this production.

Members of the Madoc Business Association were busy decorating the village for the upcoming Christmas season last Thursday afternoon. The whole village got candy canes for display outside of their respective businesses. Helping the village for Christmas was (I-r) Jane Brownson, Richard Chapman, Nancy Robinson and Mary Jane Henderson. The Christmas canes are the creation of the clients at the Centre Hastings Retraining Centre and cost $18 each.

Highlites of October village council minutes

Tennis court.
The Clerk-Treasurer was instructed to have the tennis court lights turned off after October 31, 1990.

Madoc Hotel.
Mrs. Barb Kelly (Madoc Hotel owner) attended council. A review of the Totten Sims Hubicki report on the required parking for the Madoc Hotel project took 'place. Reeve Deline said that council needs to act on this matter without further delay and suggested what the Kelly's have provided for parking. He added that they can get 33 of the 58 parking spaces required by the zoning by-law.
Council resolved that a bylaw be drafted as per the Kelly's request.

Creek clean-up.
Mr. Bill Mitchell of CHSS attended council to request permission for his environmental class at CHSS to participate in the development of the Whytock property and to continue their efforts in the clean up of the Deer Creek. Mr. Mitchell's environmental class is the second largest of its kind in Ontario. Mr. Mitchell said his class would like-to-participate in the planting of trees on the Whytock ing of trees on the Whytock property to coincide with Earth Day 1991 and they would like to do water studies on the Deer Creek.

Reeve Deline thanked Mr. Mitchell for attending the meeting and he said he felt that council will be most receptive to his plans.

Signs.
Council regrets that it has to turn down the Madoc Business Association's request for money for the refurbishment of the 'Prospectors' signs on Highway 7. Council has already committed itself to the future erection of sign frames of the community for the co-ordination of future plans deal-ing with twinning activities. The Clerk-Treasurer was-instructed to advise Porthma-dog of this resolution. Reeve Deline suggested that the committee be six members and he asked Councillor Harrop to be one of the six Councillor Harrop the often the community of the committee and well asked to the committee and well select four from the community. ### CHSS news-

by Chandler Lauzon
On October 27th, Centre Hastings completed what is perhaps its most important event of the year. The annual commencement, the ceremony commencement, the ceremony which honours and pays ribute to the grade 12 and OAC graduates of the previous year, was held in the CHSS gymna-sium on Saturday, October 27th.

Of course, most all of our Of course, most all of our graduates from 1989/90 attended, accompanied by proud parents, relatives and friends. As well, CHSS's concert band, led by Mrs. MacKenzie-Coates, played to the enjoyment of the audience.

Many awards were also handed out at the ceremony. This year's valedictorian was Sheri Martin. In her years at CHSS, Sheri was an exceptional student, as well as being involved with social, intramural and athletic activities. Her speech was filled with numou-ous anecdotes about the time she and her peers spent at CHSS. Sheri now attends the University of Waterloo. Congratulations!

We plan to keep our ears open in the future about our grads. CHSS has come to expect great things from students making a name for themselves in university, college or the work world.

Week in review.

It was Halloween Daze at CHSS from Oct. 29-31. To celebrate, CHIC sponsored many events for students and homerooms from apple chomping to dressing as your favourite ghost or ghoul on Halloween.

Horne rooms participated in the annual pumpkin carving contest.

In the costume contest, student participation was down, but staff support was outstanding. A special mention goes to our faithful cafeteria staff who diligently show their spirit every year by dressing for Halloween.

Remembrance Day message from Buchanan

MPP Elmer Buchanan has a message for those attending Remembrance Day ceremo-nies across the constituency of Hastings-Peterborough. He says, with ominous talk of war in the Middle East, Canadians can honour Canada's service-men and servicewomen in past men and servicewomen in past wars by working to prevent another world war.

"One way in which we can who served Canada in past wars-many giving their lives in that service," he says, is to give our nation's full energy and insight to preventing another world war."

When we look at the integration of persons with disabilities into the education system, we often focus on the student with disabilities. There are, howev-er, an increasing number of teachers with disabilities. These teachers have the same dedication and career, each dedication and career goals as non-disabled teachers.

non-disabled teachers. Elizabeth Winklaar, a primary teacher at St. Peter of the Apostle School in Parry Sound, is a wheelchair user. Elizabeth studied at the Faculty of Education at the University of Ottawa last year and now has an Ontario Teaching Certificate. "My disability was of no concern to the students I was teaching and they accepted me teaching and they accepted me as their teacher

St. Peter of the Apostle is the only school in the Parry Sound Separate School Board. The school already had experience with students with disabilities. As a result only minor adjustments to staff washrooms and the staff room were necessary.

explored the possibility of team teaching and having an assistant in the classroom. "The students were under-standing of my disability and the educational process became a cooperative one," notes Tim.

"The students became more actively involved in their own education." Upon completion of the certification process. Tim continued in the premasters program for guidance counselling. Completion of this degree is dependant on a more long term teaching experience than Tim has been able to acquire as of this date.

Some disabled teachers have Some disabled teachers have formed organizations in order to provide one another with support. In the Unites States, for example, the National Association of Blind Teachers share information and strategies for working in the class-room. There are members of this organization from Canada, but to date their numbers are not large enough to form a group of their own.

Introducing. "discover During the next year, an educational package will be made available for elementary school teachers across Cana-da. The focus of this information package will be to increase the awareness of disaincrease the awareness of disability and issues that concern persons with disabilities. Developed by the Department of the Secretary of State, this package was overseen by a national committee of educators and persons with disabilities.
One of the goals of "Discover

Together" is to foster positive attitudes in teachers and childattitudes in teachers and cinic-ren about people with disabili-ties. It is hoped that by using this teaching tool educators will be able to help dispel the myths and misperceptions about disability. It will also enable a more open and frank-ticability. It discussion about disability in the classroom.

The first step is to assist the teacher in becoming comfortable with disability. Guidar ce is given on the appropriate terminology in order to a cu-rately portray persons with disabilities.

Classroom activities, in sluding practical simulations and discussion topics, will be featured throughout "Dicover Together." Information is specifically designed or the developmental age of the student. At the primary level (K-3), the ground work is laid to provide a basic ur derstanding of the various disabilities. As the student advances through the school system this knowledge is expanded. Other topics developed include human rights issues and physical accessibility to building (grades 6 to 8). Classroom activities, includ-(grades 6 to 8).

Discover provides information to help teachers and students under-stand the needs and abilities of persons with disabilities. The package will be piloted begin ning in the spring of 1990. It should be available for wide-spread use in time for the 1990/91 school year.

"Discover Together" promises to be an exciting new resource for teachers. Samples resource for teachers. Samples will be test marketed in sever-al schools in each province over the next several months. There is an evaluation sheet incorporated in the package. Hints....on your bed:

It is such a comfort to know exactly where to find that book you were reading, your read-ing glasses, a kleenex, or another little thing you like to have nearby

* If the headboard of your bed is high enough, a couple of good-sized pouches can be fastened there. Make two pock-ets of strong fabric on a firm backing. The backing piece should be long enough to loop over the headboard and adjust the pockets to a convenient height. If the headboard is a rail. fasten the material back height. If the headboard is a rail, fasten the material back upon itself with velcro or stitching. If the headboard is a wooden panel, tack the fabric along the back side of it.

" If you have a hospital-style bed with side rails, the same type of pouches can be fastened there.

* If you want pouches at the side of your bed but have no way of fastening them, here is a solution: make the pockets in the same manner as above but tack the back edge to apiece of quarter-inch plywood. Slide the plywood under the mattress to hold it firmly.

Reminder:

The More Abled Than Disabled club will be having their meeting on Nov. 12th, Mon. 7:30 p.m., 44 Front Street N., Community Care. Hoping to see you there see you there.

Warsaw - It seems to me that rvone should have roots

My roots are imbedded deep-ly in this land. This gives me a feeling of creative spirituality which when rooted can blossom and be nurtured into the most amazing creations.

One of these creations will be a weekly column for this news-paper. While living on Cana-da's west coast, I served as entertainment critic for a entertainment critic for a weekly newspaper and I am looking forward to my new column, "It Seems to Me," in which I will be sharing reflec-

Although Phil was raised Anglican with a strong Quaker influence, by the end of the second World War he had become agnostic and was lean-ing towards being an atheist. The local paper gave him the assignment of Religious Editor Rather appropriate. He took no sides. He attended no church, His reporting was fair and accurate. Religious leaders, lay people and clergy had great respect for his opinions. They looked forward to his columns.

In 1972, my uncle was ill with cancer. Three weeks before he died I told him I was serious about becoming a candidate for the ministry. I remember him smiling. He told me how pleased he was.

Phil was very fairminded and open in his dealings with people from all walks of life. Like his father before him, he had a wonderful mind and a social concern for people that lasted all his life. When he died in February, 1973, he was buried in the family plot in the Cemetery Oakville.

I often wonder what he thought of that.

Seven months after my uncle died I began my studies for the ministry. I was ordained in 1976 through the Hamilton Conference of the United Church of Canada.

Most of my years in ministry have been spent on rural Cana-da – first, in 1975, as a student minister in Saskatchewan. After ordination, I began on the Roseau River Indian Reserve in southern Manitoba Indian

Madoc Wildcats on a streak

by D. Miville

Three games were played last week, 2 out of town, and 1 here

The first game was in Picton, against the Pirates, and in spite of inspired playing by the Wildcats, we were outshot 24-21, and outscored

Our goal-getters in this game were: Jason Bailey from Jeff Sawkins (1st. period). Trevor Broek from Derek Chapman Ist. period).

In the first period, we were outshot 13-3, but we scored 2 to the Pirates' I goal. Aaron Beals played a steady game in goal for the Wildcats.

In the 2nd., the play was that the 2nd., the play was about as even as you could ask for, with the Wildcats getting 8 shots on goal as against 7 for the Pirates. Unfortunately, the Pirates scored on 3 of their 7 shots, while the Wildcats only shots, while the Wildcats only scored once out of their 8 tries. The goal was scored by Tim Osborne, with the assist going

The third period was all Wildcats, firing 10 shots at the Pirates' net-minder, but only 1 got through, off the stick of Jeff Sawkins, with an assist going to Trevor Broek. The Pirates on the other hand, only had 4 'shots on Aaron Beals, but they managed to get 2 past him.

In the next game, in North Frontenac, the Wildcats outshot the Flyers 35-27, but again, our players just couldn't get enough pucks past the Flyers' goaltender, and the Wildcats lost that game 7-5.

Again, the first period, went to the Wildcats, who had 10 shots on the Flyers' goal, versus 9 shots on Rob Bandy. The period was half over before the Flyers scored a power play goal. Just 3 minutes later, Jeff Sawkins got an unassisted power play goal to tie the game. That's how the period ended.

The second period was even, with the Flyers getting 2 goals on 9 shots, while Jeff Sawkins got his second goal of the night, with help from Trevor Broek and Jason Bailey. Then, Trevor Broek potted one, with an assist from Shawn Chapman and brother Derek Chap man. This tied the score once more at 3 each. The Wildcats had a total of 10 shots in this

In the third, the Wildcats outshot the Flyers 15-9, but the Flyers outscored the Wildcats 4.2. The 'Cats goal-getters in this period were: Kelly Fitz-gerald from Chris Dingman, and Andy Jones from Tim Jenkins and Darren Szczygiel.

Both teams played good hockey, close-checking, and good buck-passing. Both goal-tenders played a strong game, it's just that Rob Bandy let more shots past him than the Flyers' goalie did.

Then, here in Madoc last Tuesday, the Wildcats took on the League leading Napa-nee Raiders. The game reminded this writer of the old time Montreal Canadiens, in that the entire game was a time Montreal Canadiens, in that the entire game was a wide-open free-skating, end-to-end game. The teams were about as evenly matched as they could be, with the Raiders out-shooting the Wildcats 37-33 in the game.

In the first period, the only goal was scored by the Raiders, in spite of the fact that the Wildcats outshot the Raiders

The second period saw Aaron Beals allow three shots Aaron Beats allow three shots to pass out of the 13 he had to handle, while the Wildcats picked up two goals (out of 10 shots), the first scored by Jeff Sawkins, assisted by Derek Chapman and Greg Fleming. The Wildcats' only other goal came from Tim Jenkins, from Todd Drain and Darren Szczygiel.

The third period saw coaches Harold Bailey and Wayne Stor-ring having to juggle their lines, with Trevor Broek going out of the game with an injury, and with Sean Chapman absent for the game. This led to a number of lines that had to a number of lines that had not played together, with the result, passing was off, and positions were all but forgotten. This led to a Raiders' domination of the period. The Wildcats were outshot 15-10, and Arene Role allowed three and Aaron Beals allowed three goals in, to make the final score Wildcats 2. Raiders 7.

In spite of three losses in a row, the Wildcats are still tied for second place, only one point behind the Raiders. This says a lot for the balance of the league, in that every team has to win every game, and every loss by all teams came from every team. There is no one team dominating the league. For those of you who are interested in attending some of the Wildcats' out of town games, the next game (after Sunday, November 11th in North Frontenac, and our bus leaves the arena at 5 p.m.

reaves the arena at 5 p.m.
The next home game is Tuesday, November 13th at 8 p.m. when the Frontenac Flyers come for a visit.

And every year, for over eighty years, the Canadian Lung Association holds its major fund-raising campaign, the Christmas Seals Campaign, in an effort to combat killer respiratory diseases.

This year, over 3.5 million households in Ontario will received Christmas Seals in the mail by mid-November, symbolizing peace, spirit, hope and love to use on gifts and cards to friends and loved

The Christmas Seals symbolize even more to the one in five Canadians who suffer from various forms of lung disease. To these people in communi-ties across Ontario, Christmas Seals represent funding for medical research and community health-education programs to prevent the spread of lung disease in adults and children.

"We understand that every one is facing tough economic times, but the adults and children in our community cannot hold their breath until the recession is over," says Ronald Black, President of Ronald Black, President of The Lung Association, Kawarth Pine Region. "To these unfortunate people, the funds raised through our annual Christmas Seal Campaign represent the breath of life.

If you are searching for the perfect gift this holiday season, consider the gift of hope and health --Christmas Seals, Mr. Black concluded.

The money raised through donations to Christmas Seals is spent in your community to spent in your community to support The Lung Association's grass-roots activities in an attempt to prevent Lung Disease and promote lung health.

Donations to Christmas Seals fund The Lung Associa-tion's public health education-al and medical research programs.

The provincial goal for the 1990 Christmas Seal Campaign is $4.5 million.

is $4.5 million.

The Lung Association has some big-name help this year, as artist Lynn Johnston has once again donated the use of her cartoon charactars from her comic strip "For Better or For Worse" to promote the Christmas Seal Campaign.

Comic Howie Mandell has also generously donated his time and appears in the elec-tronic public service announcements for the campaign.

The extent of lung disease in Canada is made clear by a few statistics: Respiratory disease was the leading health problem reported during the Health

Canada survey.
*Diseases of the respiratory system rans as the third leading cause of death among Canadians. *Over 27,000 Canadians die each year as the result of diseases of the respiratory diseases of the respiratory system. *Over 35,000 Canadians die each year from tobacco-related illnesses. *Over one million Canadians suffer from asthma.

Spirit, Love, Peace and Hope

The Seals are issued by the The Seals are issued by the Lung Association for use on letters and packages, not to be used as postage. The designer of the four types of Christmas seals, Marie-Joelle Driard, is from Jasper, Alberta. Here are her words describing the intent her words describing the intent behind the four creations: Spirit (Star Seal) - The image of the leading light, the star which guided the .wise men to the newborn Jesus; the energy which draws family, friends and people together; the excitement which enlight-age our souls during the festive ens our souls during the festive ens our souls during the testive times of Christmas Love (Heart Seal) - The image of the powerful feeling which flows from our souls; the loving, caring, sharing, cherishing which unites us all;

cherisning which unites us all; a priceless gift—which we exchange with joy during Christmas celebrations. Peace (Bird Seal) - The image of wings of kindnesses, honesty, openness soaring upward toward freedom for all upward toward freedom for all the trement among humani. and harmony among humani-ty. Our national and personal inner flight toward peace and wisdom which brings us respect and recognition from others in our everyday life and especially at Christmas. Hope (Candle-Flame Seal) -The image of the eternal flame which burns within us all as we hope for justice, peace, and love for all humanity; the light which brings enlightening visions to our minds; the holy protector of our deepest wishes and hopes throughout the holi-day season.

Managing your money

by Harry L. Mardon
It is a sad fact that under Canada's punitive income tax regime family income is, in many cases, all taxed in the hands of one-individual. If the income could be split between the spouses, the family could achieve a sizeable tax saving.
Let's take the case of Family
A with a gross income of

A with a gross income of $40,000 a year. If that income is reported by the father, who supports his wife and one child under age 18, he'd have to pay $9,089 in total federal and provincial income taxes (assuming a 50 per cent rassuming a 50 per cent provincial rate). The tax picture is much brighter for Family B, if the father and mother each reported $20,000 income for the year with the father claiming. year, with the father claiming support of the child. In this situation, the family's total tax bill would be $7,183.

The difference is nearly $2,000. That is a considerable saving for Family B compared with Family A.

What comes through loud and clear is that you should try to arrange your financial affairs so that your income is divided between family members, and thus you'll pay less tax as a family.

Unfortunately, splitting family income is a taxfamily income is a tax-planning device which is seldom available, where income from employment is concerned. A major exception is where family members is where family members are employed in a family business of one kind or another. In such a case both spouses, and even the child, can be on the payroll and judiciously split the income between themselves.

The next best thing might be to divide investment income between various members of the family. Obviously, if father is in a 45 per cent tax bracket he will save tax if he can transfer part or all of his investment income to his wife and children, who would very likely pay tax at much lower.

Before we deal with splitting investment income, we should look at the rules which govern the gift of money or property from one person to another.

Under the federal Income Tax Act, when one person wants to confer a benefit on another person - for whatever reason - a gift results at the time the transfer occurs. Gifting usually occurs between time the transfer occurs. Gif-ing usually occurs between family members, including grandparents to grandchil-dren. Of course, there are a whole host of reasons why cash or property gifts are made, such as education for children or grandchildren, to reduce one's estate before death, to save probate fees - and to save taxes

Ottawa doesn't impose any limitation on the amount one limitation on the amount one person can gift to another. However, a would-be donor the recipient is called the donee) should consider several factors before making a substantial gift. These include:

The age, maturity and reliability of the donee.

How will the money be manmaged?

Will the money be wasted?

Will it create temptations

* Will it create temptations which the donee cannot handle?

Will the money get into the possession of others (such as son-in-law) whom the donor doesn't intend to directly benedoesn't intend to directly benefit from the gift?

In other words, a would-be donor should deal with any misgivings before the gift transfer takes place. That's because in order to make a valid gift, the transfer of money or property must be use the appropriate legal gargon. It means that after the gift is made, the donee must be able to deal with the property as would any owner, and the donor must not be able to forcover the donated property. It is for these reasons that it is wise to seek professional is wise to seek professional advice before making a gift. You'll get such advice from a lawyer, accountant or professional financial planner. In fact, any one of these profes-sionals can show you there are ways to arrange gifts so that the donor gives up ownership of property, but retains some control over accesss to the property by the intended

In case you didn't know, there are no direct taxes on gifts in any Canadian province since Quebec abolished gift taxes and succession duties in

Golden anniversary for 50 years service

by Janice Pinke
Mr. Goldie Phillips of Gilmour was honoured by Jamily, friends and co-workers on Saturday, November 3rd in Gilmour, for fifty years as a mail carrier in the tiny Village of Gilmour and the Township of Tudor and Cashel.

of Tudor and Cashel.
Presently, Goldie delivers to an estimated 300 homes, but fifty years ago, when Gilmour was a bustling logging town, Goldie had a lot more people to deliver to. The population 50 years ago was estimated at 800.

"Thru rain, hail, sleet, snow (sometimes sun). No matter what the weather, the mail must go (and come)." This was written in a book of memo-ries compiled by those close to Goldie and it was presented to him that Saturday afternoon.

Born in Gilmour, Mr. Phil-lips turned 74 on November 10th. When remembering the old days, Mr. Phillips recalls that he started out in 1940, delivering the mail by horse and buggy.

and buggy.
Goldie says he would wait on Highway 62 for the Belleville/Bancroft bus to drop off the mail every morning. One morning, after meeting the bus, Mr. Phillips headed back to the Gilmour post office only to be stopped by a truck stuck in snow and blocking the entire road. Goldie managed to get around the truck and keep the mail rolling, by crossing a field and two fences.

Goldie remembers another Goldie remembers another time when, while waiting for he mail on Highway 62, a man pulled over in a pick up because he had ran out of gas. Goldie took him back to the post office and wh let there the clerk thought this man was wanted by police. When Goldie with gas, he took note of his licence plate number and called police. Sure enough the man was a wanted fugitive. Goldie says he is still not ready to re re, so residents will still have the pleasure of Goldie's skiled mail carrying efforts - for a while anyway. Congratulations Mr. Phillips.

honouring ner for sixty, years as a correspondent with the Madoc Review.

Queensborough's Goldie Holmes started writing for the local Madoc paper when it was known as the North, Hastings Review back in 1930. Goldie says it started when she sent poems into the Review and they printed them in the paper. Review owners then asked Mrs. Holmes if she would begin writing news for the paper. Goldie started out in: 1930 by writing the 'Coopers News'. In 1946 when Goldie and her husband Arthur moved to Queensborough, Goldie began News' and has been doing so now for over 45 years.

Society. She's been making them ever since.

I asked Goldie how it came about that she was nicknamed the 'Queensborough Quilt Lady'. She said the students at the art school in Actinolite came up with the name years ago and it has stayed with her ever since. Goldie once visited the Actinolite art school on a regular basis, taking with her, her quilts.

Born west of the White Lake Church south of Madoc, Goldie Holmes was born Goldie Ash in 1910. Goldie married her husband Arthur Holmes in 1930. Last Wednesday (Nov. 7) Goldie celebrated her 80th birthday and with that birthday she has decided to no longer write her column entitled the 'Queensborough News'.

Lack of transportation

The lack of adequate trans-portation has been identified time and time again as a major barrier to participation in both structured and unstructured structured and unstructured leisure. Without transportation, going to see doctors, dentists, visiting friends, hospitals, or participating in community activities, on either a planned or spontaneous basis, as well as participation in regular recreation events is difficult or near impossible.

Many of us drive our own personal vehicles. But, in time, even that can be difficult. We may be able to get to our destinations just fine using hand controls on our cars, but we aren't strong enough to actually lift an electric scooter or wheelchair out of our cars Some of us also can't balance well enough to use a scooter or chair lift out of the trunks of our cars.

If you are interested in the future of transportation for those with disabilities in Campbellford and areas, campositiord and areas, maybe you can help.

We're going to keep you posted, within the next two weeks we hope. Thought you'd like to know about this.

Thank you notes:
Our heartfelt thanks to "Ye Olde Puckers" old-timers hockey team for the proceeds of $750 from a sponsored golf townsament to More Abled tournament to Mo Than Disabled Club.

Slow-cooker, crockery, hot pot, call it what you will, but if you own one, I have found that its first good feature for the sitting cook is its portability. It can be placed on a low.4able and made easily accessible both for filling and for emptying. And you even get to see what's happening inside since it's low enough for you to peer over the edge.

Brown bread and baked beans

Brown bread

2 cups whole wheat flour

No "piggy-backing", says revenue minister

The Minister of Revenue for Ontario, the Hon. Shelley Wark-Martyn, has assured Wark-Martyn, has assured provincial consumers that if the new federal Goods and Services Tax is implemented, they will not have to pay provincial sales tax on top of the federal GST.

the federal GST.

The message follows a recent statement by the treasurer, Floyd Laughren, and fulfills the commitment made earlier by Premier Bob Rae's new government. Specifically, it reverses the decision of the previous government to "piggy back" Ontario Retail Sales Tax on the GST, as announced in the April, 1990 budget.

"It's no secret that this "It's no secret that this government stronglyopposed to the federal GST," said Wark-Martyn. "We believe it is unfair, horrendously complex, and will further worsen the economic situation. We are also well aware of the uncertainty and complexity people face in dealing with the new federal GST, and we certainly don't wish to add to the confusion."

Consquently, Wark-Martyn intends to introduce legislation in the next session of the legislature to ensure that the GST will not be automatically included in the RST base as included in the RST base as required by existing legislation.

"In the meantime, my ministry will undertake a comprehensive communications strategy to immediately inform vendors and consumers of this change in policy, and to deal with their questions."

First, a special notice will be included with the monthly tax return cards which will be routinely mailed to about 300,000 RST vendors. This notice will provide instructions and a toll-free number for further information. Secondly, a more detailed RST bulletin will be mailed in November to all vendors and generally to all vendors and generally to tax accountants, lawyers and business organizations. These notices and bulletins will be provided in both French and English.

Third, to reinforce these actions, advertisements will be placed in all Ontario English placed in all Ontario English and French daily, weekly and ethnic newspapers. As well the ministry's multilingual telephone enquiry service will provide information and advice on specific questions from individuals by calling the following numbers:

Additionally, Wark-Martyn noted that, in certain limited circumstances, some Ontario residents may have already paid RST on GST levied since September, 1990 for goods and services to be delivered after Dec. 21.100-200.

services to be delivered after Dec. 31, 1990.

"Where this has occurred the tax will be refunded," she said. "Vendors will be authorized to repay any RST previously paid on GST upon customer request. Alternatively, refunds will be paid by our Retail Sales Tax Branch.

PETERBOROUGH-Most of the management team of Canada's largest retail furni-

Canada's largest retail furniture operation was on hand here Wednesday to help the new owners launch the grand opening of the existing outlet in grand style.

Tom Leon, the Chief Executive Officer of the huge Leon's organization, took part in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies held to officially mark the ownership change for the 30,000-square-foot outlet located at 885 Clonsilla Ave.

He paid tribute to the new owners of the franchised store, Jo-Ann and Phill Eden, who also operate a sprawling 60,000-square-foot Leon's in Trenton.

Trenton.

"We are indeed pleased to have such distinguished people as the Eden family involved in the Leon's organization," said Mr. Leon. "We're proud of Phil's leadership and have total confidence in his ability to make the Peterborough outlet just as successful as Trenton."

Mr. Eden told the select gathering of invited guests that he was looking forward to the challenge and was particularly pleased to continue his association with such a respected company as Leon's. Other principals involved in the ribbon-cutting included Ed Leon, vice-chairman of the parent company. Bruce Stevens, franchise manager; and Terry Leon, vice-president. Besides Jo-Ann and Phil Eden were their two sons-Michael, manager of the Peterborough store, and Terry, in charge of trucking operations. Larry Leeder, Sales and Marketing Supervisor for Leon's in Trenton and Peter-borough, said that having both outlets operating under one umbrella would improve the firm's marketing umbrella would improve imriseffectiveness.

"We'll be better able to co-ordinate our marketing thrust into many of the fringe areas outside of the major locations such as Campbell-ford, Stirling, Havelock, Norwood and Marmora," he noted.

Leon's, which has been established for 81 years, oper-ates in 41 locations, and did more than $400 million in sales last year.

The culprits removed the front door and windows from their positions on the exterior walls, including the basement windows and then loaded them onto a fairly large truck. They were extremely careful in removing the nails and screws so as not to damage the windows. There was no evidence at the scene to indi-cate that anything had been broken.

It is estimated that it took the thieves approximately three to four hours to remove the door and vindows as well as a 200 amp electrical circuit box. The loss is estimated at $9,000.

Crime Stoppers would like to hear from anyone who may near from anyone who may have infor nation as to the persons involved in this incident, or where the stolen property might be located. A cash reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to an arrest in this case or any other unsolved case is offered by Crime Stoppers.

SHINE III underway with expanded focus

The third Hastings County edition of SHINE magazine is underway. Across the county, 118 student editors are now at work in their schools encouraging Hieir peers to get involved in writing articles and providing art work for this award-winning magazine. SHINE III is scheduled to arrive at the schools during Education Week in April 1991.

The magazine's original purpose was to provide a vehi-

Week in April 1991.

The magazine's original purpose was to provide a vehicle for students to talk to other students about the problem of teenage substance abuse. This edition of the magazine expands that scope to meet the requests of students who have seked for the exportunity to asked for the opportunity to discuss other issues that concern them.

SHINE III will focus on healthy lifestyle decisions and their impact on the individual. the family, society and the environment. As a result, the student editors have developed an Editorial Plan for distribu-tion to schools which contains not only topics related to drugs and alcohol but also includes suggestions for articles on environmental issues, eating disorders, teen suicide, family disorders, teen suicide, family abuse, teenage pregnancy and sexuality, A.I.D.S. date rape, divorce and separation, relationships with parents, peer pressure, crime and many other topics.

It seems to me...

Choosing to live in peace and dignity

By Rev. Dorinda Vollmer

Remember Joey Filion? He was only 15-years-old when over 80 per cent of his body was burned in his home in Orilla in March, 1988. Many Canadians followed his story and we can't begin to imagine the horror his family went Joey spent 404 days at Toron-to's Hospital for Sick Children and in Boston at the Shriner's Burn Clinic. Both of his feet were amputated. There were moments when many Cana-dians wonderd if Joey might not live. Thousands waited anxiously.

Part of our lives

For some of us, Joey became a part of our lives.

Day after day, month after month, Joey's mother Linda Hawkins, sat by her son's hospital bed knowing each breath could be his last. She watched and waited and suffered. The pain of labor in giving birth to Joey was nothing compared to the pain-she felt as she watched her son cling to life. The city of Orilla responded to the tragedy and built a home for Joey as well as setting up a Trust Fund now estimated to be worth $105,000.

Two years later - in 1990 - problems arose.

Last month CBC's "The Journal" interviewed Joey and his family. They had left Orilla and were living in British Columbia. The family felt they were on display for the town, like an exhibit. People would come to their place and stare while others would expect to be shown through their home. shown through their home.

Over the past two years, it has been very difficult for Joey and his family to have any privacy. So the family, realiz-ing that they could not live a normal life in Orilla, moved to

What is most disturbing about all of this is how a few people in this Canadian town reacted to Joey and his family moving.
They felt betrayed – as if this family owed them. Some of them made that quite clear when they were interviewed on "The Journal" last month.

One of Joey's neighbours was interviewed. When she found out the family was moving to B.C. she went over to talk to Joey's mother. She told the interviewer that Linda Hawkins made her so angry she slapped her.

She physically assaulted Joey's mother and admitted it on national television!

Joey is physically scarred for life.

The emotional abuse this family has suffered at the hands of a few people will stay with Joey a lot longer, and that goes deeper. One wonders what motivated these people to give in the first place.

When it comes to money how quickly and conveniently we forget that love is uncondi-tional. We are to ease the pain of others.

of others.

At issue is control and money. The same old story. This time, who gets to run Joey's life?

He belongs to himself, as that movie "Who's Life is it that movie "Who's Life Anyway? fairly screams

It seems to me that it is Joey's life. It seems to me his family have suffered enough. They have the right to live in peace and dignity where ever they choose - Trust Fund or

Important Changes to Unemployment Insurance

Below are the highlights of changes to the Unemployment Insurance (UI) Act. These changes will affect most claims that start on or after November 18, 1990.

Qualifying for benefits

After November 18, you will need 10-20 weeks of work within the past year to qualify for regular UI benefits. The exact number of weeks you will need and how long you will be able to collect these benefits will depend on the unemployment rate in your area.

Maternity/ Parental benefits

Parents may be eligible for 15 weeks of maternity benefits (available to the mother) plus 10 weeks of parental benefits (available to either the mother or the Parental benefits are also available in the case of an adoption.

Leaving a job

Individuals who leave their job without "just cause", are fired for misconduct or refuse a suitable job offer, can be penalized by losing from 7 to 12 weeks of benefits and having the amount of benefits reduced.

Working after age 65

If you work after age 65, you may now be eligible for UI. This change will be retroactive to September 23, 1988.

Gilmour residents dedicate memorial

Continuing Mr. Taylor says the first Remembrance Day service at the Gilmour Public service at the Gilmour Public School saw students construct their own cenotaph out of construction paper. David Hamel, attending this service, was so moved by the efforts of the students that he "vowed there would be a granite memorial in 1990 and he put a $100 bill in my hand towards the project" says Taylor.

A committee was formed and headed by Marie Whittaker and Wanda Dopaldson. Most of the monies raised

Most of the monies raised came from the residents of Gilmour and from the nine Legion's present for the dedi-cation ceremonies last Friday

The Juniors appear to have a strong mix of veterans and newcomers which propelled them this season. The defence was outstanding, led by line-men Chris Coulson and Chris Vendervator, and linebachers Vanderwater and linebachers Olen Sherwin and Don Harn-den. After the Moira game, the offense came into it's own, steadily scoring more and more with the likes of Tom Corbett, Kevin Palmateer, Richard McFall and Dale Ketcheson leading the way.

their play.

Most recently, both teams were successful in their first playoff games, our juniors manhandling Centennial 33-8 and the seniors overcoming Quinte 28-10. This gave each team a berth in the Bay of Quinte final last Saturday, against arch-rivals Moira.

The senior team last won

The senior team last won Bay of Quinte in 1987 and went on to take COSSA, while the juniors took Bay of Quinte in 1988 only to lose in the COSSA

The staff and students of Centre Hastings are proud of both our teams and wish them well in their games ahead.

When asked by the Madoc Review last week, "Will you be opening on Sundays?" most merchants were very quick to respond "no". Some did feel that if one merchant did decide to open for Sunday shopping then they might have to resultate their stance on the subject and may possibly have to open for business.

Brian Lovegrove of Angelo's told the Madoc Review "I haven't made up my mind". He said he would probably remain closed but added "I don't think anybody can honestly answer that".

With less than one minute to go referees in Norwood "called a game" because of countless fights (like the one pictured above) between the Madoc and Norwood Midget hockey teams last Wednesday night (Nov. 14). Photographer, Bill Free-man, told the Madoc Review that Norwood was however, declared the winner with a 5-0 victory over the Madoc Midgets. Mr. Freeman told the Madoc Review that a disgust-ing display of sportsmanship was exhibited by both teams.

This six-month project runs through the Kingston Youth Employment Service. It is designed for people between the ages of 18-24 years, who would like to work in Kingston, Ontario, and Kingston, Jamaica, learning more about local development issues.

development issues.

Eight participants, were hired october 12th and started work the week-of October 22nd The first week involved finding out more about their new job, and the people they will be working with. Their employer is CUSO, an organization that promotes local and international development issues. They are lopment issues. They are trained to be a community development educator. All eight participants will have a placement in the community CUSO are committed to help ing them work the program around their specific goals.

Weeks 2-11: Participants will working in the community on part-time work placements (212 days a week). The rest of the time they will be meeting as a group to explore development issues, preparing to live ment issues, preparing to live and work overseas, and shar-ing CUSO research projects within the group and/or the community. Specific schedules will be worked out by the group, depending on peoples reach and interests. needs and interests

Another Perspective

Imagine: You are a 21-year old woman-who has never left home town. your school at age 16 because you could no longer live with your family and couldn't think of a way to support yourself while still in school. You've had a hard time making out over these years. There's been whole months

There's been whole months where you had no income at all - scrounging by staying with rriends or hanging out. The food bank, the local shelter for women, welfare, youth agencies...by trial and error you've learned how to look after what learned how to look after what you've needed, day-lo-day. Now you're starting to have enough stability in your life that you can think about longer-term goals; you're working on correspondence courses to get some more high school credits, and you've even started to think of college someday.

someday...

A person you know at the local youth employment centre lets you know one day of a program that may be coming program that may be coming up that will give you a chance to spend some time exploring issues of community development. You smile, thinking about how much you already know - from first hand experience; about issues of community development. (What's ity development. (What's there, what's not.) But there's more, she tells you, reading behind your smile.

behind your smile.

With this project, you'd get to work within the system for a bit to understand how it operates. You would also get time to explore the issue in a broader way, and to learn to share your "expertise" with other groups that might benefit from knowing a little more about what's going on in their own communities. And you would also have an opportunity to spend eight weeks doing a related work placement in Kingston, Jamaica, so that you could come to understand community development issues within another country. issues within another country. and integrate your experience in your own community. You'd learn how to share that with others, too, maybe people who would benefit from knowing more about what other communities are like, but don't get the chance to find out

Imagine saying "yes" to a learning opportunity like that, and imagine, too, what it would be like to be sitting in a room with eight individuals who are about to share this experience with you, and you can begin to imagine the exuberance surfounding the start of this program.

Co-ordinated locally by the Kingston Youth Employment Service and CUSO Kingston. Service and CUSO Kingston, and with the co-operation of the Combined Disabilities Association in Jamaica, the program-hopes to provide an integrated approach to "development education" as a local as well as global concern. The participants are youths often under-represented within other programs because their often under-represented within other programs because their life circumstances don't make them an easy "fit." They will learn through participation in the program how to facilitate awareness building among groups that existing development education programs have a hard time reaching. We are looking forward to seeing are looking forward to seeing how it all unfolds...

Your business

It is often difficult for you, as the owner of a small business, to articulate how you would like to see your customers treated. You know intuitively how to do it - you do it yourself-but it's not easy communicat-ing that to employees. For Peter Woolford. Vice President of the Retail Council of Canada quality customer

For Peter Woolford, Vice President of the Retail Council of Canada, quality customer care begins with basic sales techniques. Many small businesses cannot afford to train employees, so an owner may spend an inordinate amount of time ensuring that staff are willing and able to care for customers.

"You need to know the products and know what customers need," says Woolford. Fitting the two together is the "essence" of serving a customer. Basic sales techniques like cross-selling are also interpreted by the customer as a willingness to serve. In Woolford's words, today's customers are "time-poor" and the products more "sophisticated. So you need to be able to explain the product to custom-explain the product to custom-ers, instruct them on its approoriate use and its suitability to them.

priate use and its suitability to them.

Canadians are also very aggressive price-shoppers. This tends to cut both ways. On generic or brand name items that need little explanation-such as popcoorn - price will completely determine point of purchase. But in areas such as clothing, customer care may be more important. The challenge is to communicate to employees what is unique about your business. Why are you different? Armed with this understanding, they can 'take advantage of the personal relationship they build with customers.

When writing up the sales slip, you can alert customers to the arrival of new stock.

sip, you can alert customers to the arrival of new stock. Having them put their name on a mailing list is still an excellent method of including them in your business. It shows you care. You want them to have first chance at a special offer.

Caring for your customer can be as inventive as you are. Many marketing tips have been reported - from coupon-ing and direct mail to sending birthday cards to every customer. The more ways you can care, the more growth you will experience in your business

There may be only one simple rule in achieving simple rule in achieving customer care: exceed your customers' expectations. First, you must understand why customers visit you. Then, you must find the "pleasant surprise" that they do not

For instance, customers may expect free coffee in a tire store, but they do not expect cappuccino. A bargain warehouse customer does not expect to be greeted at the door. Still, these small touches positively change customer perceptions of your business. Once you have established a customer care standard customer care standard through good service and a few pleasant surprises, set a new standard. Customer care expectations change as you offer more care. By constantly increasing your level of care, you soon find your market share may increase. Your customers will tell their customers friends.

Affairs, or a slum landlord.

The list is endless. And the taxpayer pays these high costs of service. Few of us would have little to criticize if we could see that the poor in this country were really helped. But this is not the case.

There are profits to be made off the poor (and dollars to earn before we sleep) all at the expense of, but in the name of, serving the poor

Still the poor remain poor

There are those welfare workers. social workers. workers, social workers, doctors, civil servants, slum landlords, the native bureau-crats, the non-native technoo-crats and the business people crats and the business people who all make a living only because there is a group of people in Canada who are classified as poor.

Poor white, poor Indian, poor Metis, poor black.

Poor is poor

Poor is poor

Poor is poor.

Disadvantaged means disadvantaged and the colour we want is green. Green for money. Green for jobs. Green for me to help you.

But the poor remain poor.
Disadvantaged means disadvantaged.

The slum landlords, welfare workers, civil servants, social workers and business people -colour them all green. But the poor have no colour -- colour them sick: colour them colour them sick; colour them hungry.

Who has compassion for the disadvantaged? Where is the hope that is born of one's willingness to join with those who are disadvantaged and dehumanized?

Our Canadian government spends millions of dollars a year trying to solve certain problems in the social service area. It talks about employment in terms of programs. Programs to solve problems.

Last Monday evening was Hunt Night at the Royal Winter Fair Horse Show. The program began with a simulation of a traditional Meet. The Master and his Lady, their attendants and a serving-girl entered the ring in a carriage while their groom led their mounts to join them. As other members of the Hunt arrived, the servant passed around the "stirrup cups."

The hounds were brought in by the Huntsman of the Hamilby the Huntsman of the Hamilton Hunt and paraded around the course, stopping frequently to do what dogs do, adding a touch of levity to the proceedings—to the great delight of the audience. Then the participating Hunt Clubs sent in their teams of three to parade before the Master.

Synchronized jumping

This was followed by the Pairs Hunt Class and the Team

It was quite stirring to see two and three horses jumping the course abreast in perfect sychronization; although there were a couple of hair-raising moments when a collision seemed imminent, adding to seemed imminent, adding to the excitement.

The winning team — the Toronto and North York Hunt — was presented with the Computerland Invitational Hunt Team Trophy.

The Team Class was accomapnied by a horn-blowing competition which judged the Huntsmen on their expertise in playing the three common calls: cheering hounds on; gone to ground; and blowing for home.

A new class this year was Ladies Hunter Under Side-Saddle. Suprisingly, there were at least 20 entries. It seems that the side-saddle is making a comeback, at least in the show ring.
In Dressage, the Blackburn

Group Inc. is sponsoring the $12,000 Grand Prix Kur, in which one competitor performs on each of four nights with the rider with the highest score repeating her/his performance on the final evening.

At the conclusion of the ride, the judges hold up the score cards as in figure skating or diving. At first glance, this seems like Philistinism, but realistically it does raise the profile of dressage and makes it more comprehensible to the general public, therby attracting corporate sponsorship.

Perhaps anything that is good for the sport is justifiable.
Monday night's entry was

LETTER TO THE EDITOR...

Food aid requires full co-operation

The local committee of the Canadian Foodgrains Bank wishes to announce that its 1990 campaign for grain has begun. Local grain growers may deliver their contributions to the Foxboro Co-Op or Thrashers Elevators in Trenton Trenton.

The spring and summer of 1990 continued to see a strong demand for international food aid. Executive director Bert Loewen, touring Africa this summer, met with church and government officials to ensure that our Canadian food aid is being distributed efficiently and effectively.

He returned confident of continued high standards.

"I was assured that there was an equal sense of responsibility of people working at the other end," said Loewen.

Compassionate food aid on a Compassionate food aid on a large scale requires more than co-operation across the food aid chain of producer, trans-porter, distributor and receiv-er. Also needed is a keen sensitively to the local context where the food aid will actually be used. The best efforts to help others in need may be counterproductive if the time and energy is not taken to assess each situation on its own merits.

own merits.

Therefore food aid is shipped under the following guidelines:

* the receiving country must be in a food-deficit position.

* the food aid must be districted.

Brighton joins battery brigade

In October we diverted 141.4 pounds of battery dry cells from the landfill site. Thanks to all good citizens who partici-pated. Continue to spread the message, talk about waste, particular hazardous waste and how to reduce it.

The town of Brighton is the latest member of the battery club now. The Brighton council accepted the responsibility for the now established action on the first meeting after I submitted the list of participating battery dealers and banks. This should be a good example for other councils.

ple for other councils.
The council of Hastings Village, for instance, deferred a decision on the take-over to January, 1991. First they waited for the outcome of the vote on Bill 201. The bill was voted in Oct. 24th and put the county in charge of waste management. Now they wait again for miracles to happen.

Despite the fact that Reeve Walter Scudds tried to convince the council members in the October meeting that the action work be for the better of the people, it was deferred.

I contacted two of the coun-cillors and the others I couldn't reach. (Actually I heard enough). One was in favor of said: "I don't worry so much about it. The whole waste issue is exaggerated anyway. put the garbage into the ground since the beginning of time, why should we change:

I suggested to this gentle-man that he best resign because he didn't represent the interests of the people very well. He didn't like the idea.

I recommend that citizens watch your councillors at work. It is your choice at the next election. By voting for a person still living in the middle ages you could jeopardize your own and your children's health own and your children's neatin and future.

The media should add the following to their good work. A council vote on important issues should be reported by stating which way each council member voted in order to enable the citizenry to rate the performance representatives

The Flyers scored twice in the first period, twice in the second period, and three times in the third, for a total of 7 goals. The Wildcats, on the other hand only managed two goals, one in the second period by Darren Szczygiel from Jason Bailey, and one in the third period off the stick of Darren Szczygiel, unassisted.

These two teams then came to Madoc on Tuesday, November 13th, for a return match.

Even though the Wildcats lost this game 8-7, they made a nail-biting game of it.

In the first period, the Wild-cats opened the scoring with a goal by Darren Szczygiel, assisted by Trevor Broek and Alan Danford. Exactly four minutes later, the Physical Later. minutes later, the Flyers tied it up. Then, with just 31 seconds left in the period, Trevor Broek scored on a power play, with Derek Chapman and Jason Bailey picking up the assists. Seventeen seconds later, the Wildcats made it 3-1 when Jim Bonter scored on another Bonter scored on another power play, assisted by Derek Chapman and Tim Osborne. Shots on goal in this period were Wildcats 13, Flyers 10.

The second period was almost all Flyers, as they outshot the Wildcats 18-7, and outscored the Wildcats 5-2. The first of the two goals for the Wildcats was scored by Tim Jenkins, unassisted. The score at the end of this period was 6-5 for the Flyers.

The third period saw the best period of the entire game, with each team scoring twice. The Wildcats started the scoring after one minute into the after one minute into the period, being a short-handed goal from Derek Chapman, unassisted. Three minutes later the Flyers got the goahead goal again. Determined to do something about the one goal deficit, the Wildcats tied it again at the 8 minute mark, on a power play. Curtis Hollister got credit for the goal, and Tim Jenkins and John Davis each got an assist. The score stayed got an assist. The score stayed tied until just two minutes before the end of the game, when the Flyers scored what proved to be the game winner. Even the shots on goal indi-cated how close the play was, with the Flyers out-shooting the Wildcats in the period, 15 to

While this game made it the sixth loss in a row, the Wild-cats showed they are still a hockey team to be reckoned with, and there was no share

In spite of the record, (3 wins, 7 losses and 1 tie) the Wildcats are still in fourth place, and only three points separate first place from

1990 PROPERTY ASSESSMENT

The annual Assessment Roll listing the assessed value of each property in your municipality will be delivered to your municipal clerk on December 18, 1990. The amount of property tax (municipal and school) you will pay on your home or business in 1991 is determined by multiplying your assessed value by the mill rate, which is calculated by your municipality. The mill rate is based on the financial needs of your municipality, county or region, and school board.

Notice of Property Valuation

Notices of Property Valuation are mailed to property owners and tenants, prior to the delivery of the Assessment Roll, only if any of the information relating to their property assessment has changed during the past year, such as the assessed value, school support or address; or if they appealed their 1989 property assessment.

Information Open Houses

Whether or not you received a Notice of Property Valuation, you may have questions about your property assessment. If you do, please come to an information Open House. An assessor from the Ministry of Revenue's Regional Assessment Office will be available to explain your assessment, answer your questions, and change any inaccurate information relating to your property.

If you have questions but can't make it to an Open House, please call or visit the Regional Assessment Office.

The date and location of the Open House in your municipality and the address of the Regional Assessment Office are listed below.

Appealing Your Assessment

If you are still dissatisfied with your assessment after going to an Open House or contacting the Regional Assessment Office, you may appeal to the Assessment Review Board. The appeal must be filed within twenty-one days after the delivery of the Assessment Roll.

To file an appeal, please use the form on the back of your Notice of Property Valuation, write a letter, or use a Notice of Appeal form. This form and the address of the Assessment Review Board are available at Open Houses, the Regional Assessment Office, and your municipal office.

The final date for appealing your 1990 assessment is January 8, 1991.

"Full time jobs and other commitments" have forced the owners of Madoc's Trim and Tone Fitness Centre to close the centre's doors and put it up for sale says owner Dave Chappelle.

Dave Chappelle told the Madoc Review that Dave and his wife Jan are looking for someone who "can put a key in tover". He said to keep the centre "open and running at the same time is impossible". "paying for itself" when it was open but he added "it needed that extra something".

Trim and Tone opened two years ago almost to the day, and since then the centre has played host to many men and women in the area who have wanted to lose weight and did within the centre's walls. Mr Chappelle said the centre had a "faithful" clientele who were losing weight at the time of the closing and he is sorry that they had to find other alternatives for weight loss reduction

Children's Wish awards plaques to Cembal Publications

All children deserve a lifetime of dreams, but there are those who have time for only one. Children who are terminally ill don't have a lifetime to fulfill their dreams, and often their parents do not have the resources to make their one "big wish" come true in the time they have

This is where the Cnildren's Wish Foundation of Canada comes in. This organization, founded in 1984 by Pickering resident, Laura Cole, is a charitable foundation which raises funds to make the wishes of terminally ill children a reality.

Ten Children Wish chapters were established across-Canada by 1985, and in 1987, 150 wishes were granted nationally. Sometimes a child's wish is very simple: Jason, a ten-year-old boy with cellular carcenoma, had never been to the zoo. In November, Jason and his family went to the Toronto Metropolitan Zoo and stayed in Toronto for the weekend, with the help of Children's Wish.

Suzanne, a 12-year-old girl from Quebec, asked for a horse. In May of 1985, a pony was delivered to her farm where she lived. Suzanne passed away two months later from leukemia. Here in our area, the annual Children's Wish Foundation Golf Tournament, held on August 12 at the Pine Ridge Golf Club, raised money to help sponser the wish of a 3-year-old boy from Ontario, Jason, who wanted to visit his grandmother in Nova

The organizer of the event, Joe Cembal, publisher of Cembal The organizer of the event, Joe Cemoal, publisher of Cemoal publications in Marmora, was recently presented two plaques by Children's Wish representative Sid Allcorn. One plaque recognized Cembal himself, for his initiative in putting the tournament together, and the other plaque was dedicated to the Cembal control of the company of t togetner, and the other plaque was declicated to the cernoal Publications as a whole. Alllorn said Children's Wish was deeply appreciative of the work put into the tournament, and it wanted to officially recongnize these efforts.

"I'm pleased to accept the award but I accept it on behalf of everybody who played and assisted in the golf tournament," says Cembal. "This is the type of thing that people in the area should take credit for and get involved in."

The Children's Wish Foundation will be operating a booth at the Quinte Mall until Dec. 20 to receive donations.

BATTERED WIFE RECALLS LIFE WITH ABUSIVE PARTNERS

by Janice Pinke
She's in her early 40's how and she "always admired the name" Anna Marie, so since this is her story, that's what we will call her - Anna Marie.
Anna Marie has been married twice and has lived in a common law relationship once. All three relationships resulted in abuse of some type.
She now lives in Hastings County and is incapable of holding a job because of the physical abuse she has sustained over the years. Her injuries mean the whole left side of her body does not work the same as it did when she was a younger woman. She presently attends support groups through the Centre Hastings Safe Homes program.
With this article, we see the Hastings Sate nomes program. With this article, we see the end to Family Violence Month in Ontario. However, just because Family Violence Month has ended, family violence in Hastings County and all across Canada hasn't ended and it won't until battered women take control of their lives and say 'enough is battered women take control of their lives and say "enough is enough" as Anna Marie did-three times. The support groups Anna Marie now attends will teach her to watch for indicators of abuse. They will teach her self esteem, and that she never need re-enter a relationship filled with abuse.

At the end of the interview Anna Marie concluded, "I hope this helps somebody." "If I could just help them (battered could just help them (battered women)".

This is Anna Marie's story.
At the beginning of the 1970's, Anna Marie met and married her first husband - an alcoholic truck driver. "I knew he drank" she says, "but I did not know he was an alcoholic". He would go away for months, come home and without even come home, and without even recognizing their only child, he would expect Anna Marie to put her life on hold and focus all of her attention on him. He drank their earnings and Anna Marie had to submit to asking her neighbours for monetary support. "There were also other women in his life" says Anna Marie.

After four years of this Anna Marie packed her bags, called it quits, and went home to her folks, taking with her their only child.

Less than one month later, Anna Marie left home to live with her brother. Shortly after that, while reading the local that, while reading the local newspaper, Anna Marie noticed a death announcement for her brother's landlord's wife. She was only 38 years old. And shortly after that the landlord came to visit Anna Marie and her brother and a relationship between Anna Marie and the landlord evolved, which would last some 15 years.

COME TO THE

Anna Marie and the landlord married. He took her home to where his deceased wife had tended to his family of three tended to his family of three kids. Now it was Anna Marie's responsibility to be the wife he had lost to cancer. Anna Marie found out in later years that he had also beaten her.

The first instance of physical abuse came when Anna Marie was pregnant with their first and only child. She says that she was doing the laundry while her husband ate in the kitchen. He got angry came while her husband ate in the kitchen. He got angry, came into the laundry room, picked Anna Marie up off the ground and threwher across the room. and threwher across the room.
She was three months pregnant at the time. The abuse continued throughout the pregnancy, still a healthy child was born. "I don't know child was born. "I don't know how many times I took him to court" she says. However, he always apolo-gized and "I forgave him" she says. "I really wanted to keep the marriage going." "I says. "I really wanted to keep the marriage going." "I thought that if I could be a different wife things would change." She pauses and adds, "but it didn't matter what I did, how I changed - nothing changed".

changed".

Two instances of the physical abuse Anna Marie endured over the 15 year period stick in her mind. Once, she remembers, in about their third year of marriage, he came home and asked her if she wanted to and asked her if she wanted to go for a walk. She complied. As they left the house he picked up a gun. When Anna Marie ques-tioned his reasoning behind taking the gun he answered that he might see a rabbit or something.

We were walking and talking and when he wasn't beside me I turned around and he was me I turned around and he was standing there like a statue pointing the gun at me". At that moment a child ran out of that moment a child ran out of the house and announced that the phone was ringing. Anna Marie calmiy walked into the house. There had been no phone ringing and the children couldn't explain why they had said such a thing. They had no clue of the events which were developing outside the house. The second incident recalled

The second incident recalled by Anna Marie lead to a severe choking one morning until one of the children yelled upstairs of the children yelled upstairs that they were hungry. The sound of the child's voice prompted the removal of his hands from around her neck. "Sometimes, even now, I still feel his hands around my neck and I have to take off my necklace."

For the second time Anna

Marie decided it was time to get out. She took her two biological children with her and went to her mom's. Two days later her youngest child returned to the husband had just left.

She got an apartment for her

She got an apartment for her and her remaining child still at home and she got a divorce. Shortly after that Anna Marie met a man she would spend only one year with before calling it quits because of abuse. This relationship only called the mouths ago, and of abuse. This relationship only ended three months ago and for this reason all we can tell you is he threatened her with violence and put her in debt up to her eye balls.

Anna Marie and her daughter now live alone. She is still er now live alone. She is still seeing a doctor and gets dizzy and sick to her stomach because of repeated beatings to the head.

"I had one good year of marriage" she recalls. That was the first year of marriage to her second husband.

Anna Marie says she didn't know about the Centre Hastings Safe Homes Program.
"My doctor told me about it".

"My doctor told me about It".
Ruth Jamés from Safe Homes was present for the interview. I questioned her about the effects of the abuse on Anna Marie's children.
Ruth says that boys are 90 per cent likely to repeat the actions witnessed by their father cent likely to repeat the actions witnessed by their father because they have learned that's how to express anger, because pushing and hitting means they can get what they want. Girls who witness their. mom's in abusive situations mom's in abusive situations usually become submissive, thus providing more of a chance of getting into a battering situation and staying in it because she thinks it is normal

Snetsinger nets two goals

past Marmora 7-1 bantams Norwood breeze face-off time is 8 pm...the followign week Tweed is in town for another 8 pm game.

Norwood - Kirk Snetsinger stunned Marmora for two goals while goalie Ehren Davey shut down all but one scoring attempt to lead the Home Hardware bantams to a Kirk Snetsinger 7-1 Hastings and District league win Wednesday night.

Norwood 7, Marmora 1

Kirk Van Will put the home side up less than three minutes into the first period when he lofted a wrist shot over fallen Marmora netminder Daryl Bennett. Two minutes later, Norwood was up 2-0 after Jeff Beavis capitalized during a scramble in front of the visitor's net.

The next ten minutes were The next ten minutes were, scoreless despite numerous chances by Norwood – strong goaltending by Bennett kept his side in the game. But two goals 43 seconds apart, one by Royan Buck and the other by Rob Rogers, doubled the score giving Norwood a comfortable lead going into the second period. period

Bennett and the Marmora side played nearly even in the second allowing only one goal
- Snetsinger's first - with 5:50 to play in the frame. Davey was also forced to come up with some sharp netminding to preserve the 5-0 shutout.

The lead quickly became 6-0 when Spetsinger, after Bennett had made three excellent saves, finally tapped in a rebound 55 seconds into the third period.

Marmora took away Davey's shutout at the 12:31 mark after some sloppy defensive clearing attempts. Davey made the initial save but his defensive helpers failed to clear the buck away from the circling Sopha. Norwood's final goal of the night came when Jason Suther-land jammed the puck past the Marmora netminder with 5:09 to play

Notes: Earning two assists for Norwood were Jeff Beavis and Rob Rogers while Jason Cawthorn, Jon Hamilton, Jon Seabrooke and Kirk Snetsinger added single each helpers. Assisting on the Marmora goal was Marc Robinson. The game was an extremely clean one with both sides sticking to hockey Marmora, despite the score, made it an exciting made it an exciting match. ## Maple View hosts worskhop

Long Term Care Studies: Len Fabiano, president and educa-tional consultant for Education and Consulting Service (ECS), and consulting service (ECS), led a two-day workshop for long-term care health workers at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Norwood last week. The workshop, focusing on caring for older adults who suffer from mental impairment, discussed intervention and support techniques needed when working and dealing with clientele who suffer from mental impairment such as Mental impairment such as Alzheimer's Disease. Particip-ants in the workshop were able to discuss and work through problems they have when dealing with "cognitvely impaired elderly people." Mr. Fabiano s presentation was based on his book Supportive Therapy for the Mentally Impaired Adult. "The demands placed on staff for the mentally impaired elderly are intense," Mr. Fabiano says. "Effective elderly are intense. Mr. Fabiano says. "Effective caring requires that staff who provide the care-receive the support and permissions needed to perform the care... "Support by peers and the facility needs to be clearly established to encourage staff to maintian the highest level of individualized quality care." he adds. Last week's workshop was part of the "Certificate in Long Term Care Studies" that is being offered by the Maple View retirement Centre. It is the first time the program has been offered in Ontario.

Crowley Bus Lines doubles score on Knights

Norwood - Mike Wuis and Chris Jones had two goals apiece to lead their Crowley Bus Line team to a 6-3 win over the Knights of Columbus in house league action Sunday arterndon.

Greg MacDonald had a pair for the Knights while captain Ben Walsh had the other goal. It was an extremely close match for most of the game with both sides trading goals while Crowley goalie. Ian while Crowley goalie, Ian Huggins and his Knights coun-terpart, Jeff Christie put on a show for the crowd.

The game was tied 3-3 going into the final period but a goal by Mike Wuis and then two by Chris Jones doubled the margin.

Also scoring for the winners were Patrick Sprowl and Mark were Patrick-Sprowt and Mark Chaplin Earning assists for the Crowley squad were Sprowl, with three, Wuis, David Frampton, and Lara Jaramillo

Assisting for the Knights of Columbus were Walsh, with two, and Benji Donaldson.

Junior curling under way

With the return of last year's curlers and several new members, the games became very competitive following practice sessions and thus the scores have been evenly matched to date.

Using the skills they picked up in the learning process, the rookies have already turned in many fine shots. Sarah Ingram made as fine a double take-out seen anywhere but unfortunately her team lost.

The junior league sees action every Monday after school from 4 to 5:30 p.m. There is still room for additions, especially beginners who would like to get an opportunity to learn the game. Juniors from grade six uop to high school students are welcome. Qualified instructors are available. Standings up to Nov. 19th.

The equine artistry of Lvnn Cassels-Caldwell

By Heidi Bower (705-652-7633)

Warsaw - At this time of the warsaw - At this time of the year most of us are either thinking about Christmas or heading south. Those of you in the former category might be pondering what to get for the horselovers in your family. Have you considered equine

Cassels-Caldwell Lvnn

Lynn Cassels-Cladwell specializes in portraits and painting of horses. Lynn's ove of horses goes beyond her earliest memories. As a child, she constantly begged her mother, professional artist Joan Cassels, to draw horses for her.

When Joan got fed up and told Lynn to draw her own horses, an artistic career was launched.

"Rainbow in Motion"

Lynn studied Cr ative Art at Sir Sandford Flerning College where she came to be known for her horses. For one of her projects there, she painted a mural called "Rainbow in Motion" of three horses in canter sequence which was displayed over the library doors at the College and later purchased b. "It's my greatest accomplishment to date," she says. If you ever want to know anything about chariot-racing, Lynn will be able to tell you. Though she loves all horses, Lynn has a special fondness for Arabians. She has owned her 3/4 Arabian gelding, Rafar (who is now 14) since he was a yearling. She has trained him herself and is a regular competitor at horse show.

Lynn sells her work at "The Doll House" in Lakefield, a shop run by her family in Sherin Place (which also houses her studio), as well as the Whetung Gallery and other galleries in the area. She also enjoys doing artist attendance in art shows and selected horse shows.

But most of her work lately.

But most of her work lately has been privately commissioned.
When she is asked to do a privately portrait, Lynn travels to see the horse in order to get to know him or her. She likes to spend some time with it to

We have forgotten how to be humble

By Rev. Dorinda Vollmer

Warsaw - The people who have power today aren't bad people, nor do they have evil intentions. But most bureaucrats are locked up in world far removed from poverty and starvation and suffering. Many are so wound up with other concerns that they can't see or hear what is happening. Well, what is going on?

Lots of fancy new programs decided by someone in some

Lots of rancy new programs decided by someone in some office somewhere who thinks that this particular program would be great. This is the program that will solve the problem.

problem.

It's feally called political expedience – all theory, with very little practical experience to back it up. It sounds good on paper so it has got to work. So all the time and effort of many au the time and effort of many government officials is put to making this program work; sometimes long after the idea died.

The political reality is such that you get demoted if it doesn't work.

We have forgotten how to be humble.

Numble.

We have forgotten how to listen to those who need help.

We do not see those who suffer. We do not hear those who cry out because they are hungry or sick.

We need a change of heart

But the people working on the street, they understand. We have two sytems in Cana-da. One for those who can make it on their own and have make it on their own and have the simple, yet powerful, advantage of being born into job security, money, education and never having to go to bed hungry. The one difference, and only difference, that sepa-rates those who have from those who have not is by virtue of their birth. of their birth.

of their birth.

One system talks about equality and treats those who have as equals.

The other system practises inequality and treats as unequal those who are poor.

As it stands today, it is to the advantage of those who have the money and the power to keep the problem alive and well fed. To keep people divided. To keep the poor, poor; and those that have, comfortable.

A change of attitude - a change of heart - is what is really needed.

Let's be aware that as long as we continue to do the things we are doing in the way in which we are doing them, not much is going to change. We can change the statistics around; we can change the programs; but at real issue nothing will change toward those who are poor.

Nothing will-change until the poor are seen as people. Flesh poor are seen as people. Flesh and blood people. Human beings deserving of our respect and concern.

Won't go away easily

The problems between those that have and those that have been around for a long been around for a long time and they won't go away easily. But they certainly aren't going to go away at all if we keep dividing people among themselves with these temporary bandaid treatments.

And not as long as the government, the civil servants and bureacrats keep people at bay divided among themselves and fighting for funding—Metis against Indian against Women, And for the treaty Indian, city against—reserve against province—against Indian Affairs against Chief and Council.

Those who work with the disadvantaged should not disadvantaged should not remain divided, fighting for funds to survive. Those are the people with their organizations people with their organizations who need to sit around a table to talk about the issue of poverty and the sickness it breeds - unemployment, substandard housing, poor health, alcoholism, discrimination. They need to show a common front and set budgets that are fair for everyone involved, ensuring people of decent earnings, job security and freedom from hunger and want.

It seems to me that when we co-operate and agree to work together as people, only then does the fear we feel dissipate e can begin anew to trust and to hope.

- Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car in 1991. How will the proposed GST affect prices?
- A: The outgoing Federal Sales Tax (FST) is now part of the price of new cars. So, while they will be fully taxed at 7% in 1991, the expected effect of replacing the FST with the GST on the average $22,000 mid-size car is a reduction of around $850.
- Q: Ms son has figured out it will cost $500 in hamber-to build a dock at our cottage if he bought it now. How much will that lumber east with the proposed GST?
- A: You can expect to pay about $512 for that same amount of lumber for personal use based solely on the changeover from the FST to the GST.
- Q: I know, the proposed GST won't apply to city his fares but I take the commuter train to work. Will I have to pay GST?
- A: No. Daily commuter trains are considered a municipal transit service, so fares are exempt from GST.

Welfare recipients entitled to privacy but . . .

Buffled is possibly a new word, denoting a condition beyond baffled and/or buffaloed.

buffaloed.

Adequately describing the present uproar over welfare rolls between Hastings' county council and welfare administration, it has mostly to do with the right of privacy. I firmly believe everyone is entitled to privacy. Privacy is the key word in the debate; total privacy is an impossibility.

impossibility. Welfare recipients do not research or approve their own cases. People do. Abled, trained professionals acutely aware of the privacy compo-nent but are still human.

Now the body accused of "witch hunting" is Hastings County Council, who immediates ately upon coming into posses-sion of the list is not going to publish it in the local newspapers. Absolutely not.

This body is also composed

This body is, also composed of people very aware of the right of privacy and the possible ramifications of release of private information to the public. Unfortunately, in the heat of argument, some accusations have been made publicly regarding recipients that sations have been made public-ly regarding recipients that could be taken as generalized condemnation. Remembering that no names were used thus illustrating graphically the council's respect for the priva-cy of individuals.

The key here I feel is that County Council represents and is in direct contact with the residents in our county. Thus, in many cases, the members are aware of various situations at an intimate level.

Let's put together a little scenario, which might be more truth than fiction. Suppose that at the welfare office level all at the welfare office level all the square pegs fit as well as the round ones. In other words the petitioner qualifies and is awarded benefits. Said coun-cillor sees the name and can prove that in effect the wife is drawing a good salary and the husband has omitted this fact. Claim, of course, is illegal, and Ciaim, of course, is illegil, and we the taxpayers are stuck with an unjustified bill. Now the councillor may not have seen the name on a roll but is informed by word of mouth. What then? Under the wight of privage he cannot do. mouth. What then? Under the right of privacy he cannot do a thing except sit in frustration with the knowledge. Now, if he as an individual, approaches the welfare office and requests verification, I am certain he will be told this is private information. Talk about frustration! frustration!

The critical thing here is that we elect these individual: to we elect these individual: to monitor and try to keep our taxes at a reasonable level. Upper level government has decreed that more services will be provided without greater funding coming from above. Another point is that when individuals are being discussed, provision is made to keep this private by closed sessions, thus protecting privacy. When the results are formalized in open session, as they must be, then names are not used, again protecting the names of individuals.

Seemingly some cases have Seemingly some cases have been turned up indicating been turned up indicating abuse of the system, thus justifying council's concerns. We elected these people and placed our trust. If we do not trust them to act with prudence, zeal and integrity, then we should immediately throw them out.

Welfare is going to increase with the present economic situation and the unfortunate are ation and the unfortunate are certainly entitled to their dignity and privacy. In most cases it certainly is not by choice. The very act of having to request it is indignity enough. In every segment of society there's some bad apples and I would think that the powers that be would welcome any assistance in welcome any assistance in order that the funds went to those justifiably entitled.

those justifiably entured.

I have heard it said that some welfare cases should in reality be on disability assistance, again deleting the fund unjustifiably. To those well-meaning folks crying foul there is an old saying"methinks, the lady doth servered to strengly."

protest too strongly."
We most definitely need the system. Hard times are coming for many in the months ahead. We also need justification for our tax dollars and where they go. It is all well and good to say "oh, it's just government bucks" but those government bucks come out of John Q. Public's wallet.

"Buffled" is what I am as to why these bodies cannot get together and reach a solution without all the public hue and cry. Both are guilty of creating guilt feelings and public embarrassment. Both are well aware of rights of privacy. Why all the uproar?

well aware of rights of privacy. Why all the uproar?

score: Wildcats 8, nal tes 6 the return match last Tuesday, here in Madoc, the Wildcats opened the scoring book at the 8 minute mark of book at the 8 minute mark of the first period, with Darren Szczygiel getting the first of his hat trick for the night. Assists were given to Jason Bailey (the first of three) and to Derek Chapman, his first of three. The Wildcats' second unanswered goal was socred at the 12 minute mark of the first second with Darren Szczypiel period, with Darren Szczygiel getting his second goal, and Jason Bailey and Derek Chap-man getting their second assist each. Both teams had some each. Both teams had some excellent scoring chances, but the Wildcats were able to capitalize with two goals. Shots on goal in the period were 12 for each team.

The Pirates had it all their the scored period score.

The Pirates had it all their way in the second period scoring three times in 11 attempts. The Wildcats had the last laugh in the period, with almost three minutes left to play, Darren Szczygiel scored on a power play, to tie the score at three each. Jason Bailey and Derek Chapman each got their third assist of the night. the night.

The third period saw numer-ous chances for the Wildcats to break the game wide open. On at least two occasions, the Wildcats had a two man advantage, and could not get more than three shots on the Pirates' goal. The end result of the Wildcats' inability to score in this period was, a rout by the Pirates, with three unan-swered goals, and a final score of 6-3 for the Pirates. The shots of 6-3 for the Pirates. The snots on goal for the game indicated a balance in the game (35 for the Pirates; 34 for the Wild-cats), but the score, which is what counts, showed the Pirates to be the better team in

The team record is now: 4 wins, 8 losses and 1 tie, BUT, the Wildcats are STILL in fourth place, 1 point ahead of the Pirates!
